brook any nonsense. They said that one woman like her could do more harm than a dozen men.

It was said that the police would have stenographers present who understand the east side jargon, and everything she said would be carefully taken down.

Thousands of circulars explaining the struction of the memployed had been prepared for overy volunteer at the meeting to distribute throughout the city. The circulars called attention to the meeting to be held to-night.

At least a dozen meetings were held in various halls, back of liquor stores in east side streets last night, and in nearly every instance they were held behind closed doors. The police, however, claim to know that the most incendiary speeches were indulged in, and that little else but red and black flags will be seen to-night.

There were also a number of curbstone meetings, one in particular which was held yesterday afternoon at Broome and Easex streets being broken up by a number of policemen in plain clothes. About a dozen of the men refused to move on when ordered, and were promptly arrested.

Mrs. Lottle Kornblum, of 183 Orchard The inflammatory speeches made by Emma Goldman to the so-called unem-played workingmen at Golden Rule Hall, she urged them to defy the police and loot the bakeries, and the fact that she as well as other orators of her cuss address the mass-meeting at Union Square to-night have had the effect of lacreasing the anxiety of the police officia, who are fully alive to the situation, and the first sign of an outbreak tanight will be promptly quelled by clubs in the hands of the bluecoats.

Little by little the belief is gaining ground that the "spontaneous" parade of the unemployed on Wednesday and the "spontaneous" riot at Walhalla Hall on Thursday were in reality part of a carefully laid plan.

What leads the police to this conclusion is the discovery of a lot of Nihillistic literature in the pockets of oue of the mean arrested during the riot. As the matter contained in the pamphiet was printed in the Hebrew languages the police at first considered it as of no particular importance.

The prisoner, who gave the name of Marx Levine, was fined it or three days in fall. Since then he has made several attempts to get possession of the literature, but the police, becoming suspicious, declined to give it to him without first accertaining what it was all about.

In some quarters it was suggested that the torpedo thrown by Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, in the shape of an amendment to the Bank Circulation oill repealing the Stats bank tax, had alarmed the Senators, who desired speedy action on that measure, and fearing that the amendment might carry and thereby cripple the National bank system, unless full time were given to boint out the dangers it invoked, they permitted an adjournment. There were more surmises concerning the character of to-day's bank statement than about any previous exhibit for years. Many persons were positive that the enormous receipts of gold from Europe, amounting to $25,000,000 during the past two weeks, would result in a big increase in reserves, while others were equally certain that the statement would show a loss, basing their argument as the continued high premiums for corresponding to the continued high premiums for corresponding the statement would the heavy remittances of currency to the West and South, which are estimated at over $6,000,000 for the week.

When the statement appeared it made a very fair showing. The increase is reserve was $4,400,500, The loans were contracted $1,206,500, and the cash resources increased over $4,000,000. ,741,000 francs in gold. ALL WELL ON THE CACHEMIRE

A Steady Demand from Western and Southern Banks, However.

The increasing gold movement in this direction and the prospective heavy arrivals of specie from Europe during the coming week have resulted in a declining demand for currency, and rates paid by the money brokers to-day showed a slight falling off from the premiums which ruled yesterday. Several firms of brokers, however, are still advertising that they will pay a premium for currency of all kinds, and these calls are still meeting with a ready response. The offices of three dealers were well patronized this mora-

The acqueity of money is felt very keenly in the real-estate market. It is reported to-day by the Real Estate Record and Guide that mortgages in real estate in this city aggregate $700,410,000, the greater part of which is overdue and subject to call at any time. This condition of affairs is characterized as a magnaine under the real-estate market, which could be exploded at any time."
